SITUATIONAL AWARENESS

- After a fourth night of crowded protests in New York City against racism and police brutality, the mayor and governor voiced strong concerns that the demonstrations could set off a second wave of COVID-19.
- The full extent of short- and long-term effects of COVID-19 are still unknown, including how long you may be immune after you recover and if it's possible to become re-infected. It also isn't clear how governments would respond to a surge in coronavirus infections, though some countries, such as Lebanon and South Korea, have already reinstated lockdown orders in areas where the virus seems to be reemerging.
- Governor Whitmer signed Executive Order 2020-110, rescinding her Safer at Home order and moving the entire state to phase four of the MI Safe Start Plan. The governor's order will allow retailers to reopen on June 4 and restaurants to reopen on June 8, both subject to capacity limits. Day camps for children will likewise be permitted to open on June 8. Effective immediately, groups of 100 or less will be allowed gather outdoors with social distancing. Office work that is not capable of being performed remotely can resume. And in-home services, including housecleaning services, can resume operations.
- Governor Whitmer signed Executive Order 2020-111, which provides additional requirements and procedures to keep agricultural workers and the food supply safe from the effects of COVID-19.
- Governor Whitmer and the Michigan Department of Insurance and Financial Services (DIFS) announced that DIFS Director Anita Fox has ordered all auto insurers in Michigan to issue refunds or premium waivers to consumers as a result of insurance companies' reduced risk due to extreme reductions in driving during the COVID-19 pandemic.
- The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) announced plans to ensure residents will continue to have access to behavioral health services as providers deal with challenges created by the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Treasury issued a Notice Regarding Phased Reestablishment of Michigan's Bottle Deposit Return Program. Beginning June 15, 2020, some retailers must reopen their bottle return facilities and resume the collection of returnable beverage containers and refund of customer bottle deposits.
