SITUATIONAL AWARENESS

- Governor Whitmer has announced that “Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky will work in close coordination to reopen our economies in a way that prioritizes our workers’ health. We look forward to working with experts and taking a fact-based, data-driven approach to reopening our economy in a way that protect families from the spread of COVID-19...We will closely examine at least these four factors when determining when best to reopen our economy: (1) Sustained control of the rate of new infections and hospitalizations. (2) Enhanced ability to test and trace. (3) Sufficient health care capacity to handle resurgence (4) And best practices for social distancing in the workplace.”
- Governor Whitmer signed an Executive Order 2020-50, this past Wednesday for long-term care facilities to be required to inform both employees and residents, and take additional precautions if a resident is known to display COVID-19 symptoms.

STRESS & COPING

Disaster Distress Helpline: 1-800-985-5990

National Domestic Violence Hotline: 1-800-799-7233 and TTY 1-800-787-3224

The outbreak of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) may be stressful for people. Fear and anxiety about a disease can be overwhelming and cause strong emotions in adults and children. Coping with stress will make you, the people you care about, and your community stronger. Everyone reacts differently to stressful situations. How you respond to the outbreak can depend on your background, the things that make you different from other people, and the community you live in.

Stress during an infectious disease outbreak can include

- Fear and worry about your own health and the health of your loved ones
- Changes in sleep or eating patterns
- Difficulty sleeping or concentrating
- Worsening of chronic health problems
- Increased use of alcohol, tobacco, or other drugs
